CROSBY S. NOYES .... Editor.

The Evening Star has a regular, permanent, bona fide daily circulation more han double that of any other daily paper published in Washington, and equal to tha of all the other daily papers here added to-

THE STAR is connected with the wires of the No. Monal Telephone Exchange and with the Western Union Telephone Exchange. Both these agencies can therefore be availed of in sending to THE STAR advertisements, orders for the paper to be served, news, or any information, at any hour of the day free of charge. These facilities are a great convenience, and will be appreciated by the customers of

The Double Sheet To-morrow. THE STAR will be published as usual to-morrow in eight page form of fifty-six columns. Advertisers and newsdealers will please send in their orders as early as practicable for this enlarged and extra edition. The number of new advertisements printed last Saturday was 133. ## The State Conventions.

Though the Illinois republican convention adjourned over from a late hour last night until this morning, the contest was actually settled yesterday in favor of Gen. Grant. The direct test was made upon a resolution declaring "that Gen. U. S. Grant, of Illinois, is the choice of this convention for President of the United States." After a short but sharp fight this was adopted by a vote of 386 to 307, showing a majority of 79 for Grant. This is by no means the sweeping victory which the Grant managers had counted upon up to within a few days of the meeting of the convention, but under the usages of political parties it is, probably, sufficient to require the casting of the vote of the state for Grant at the Chicago convention. We say probably, because the Blaine men of Illinois, like those in New York and Pennsylvania, are manifesting a strong disposition to insist, in spite of convention instructions, upon their right to representation in the delegation from those congressional districts which they carried in the recent

The republican convention of Nebraska selected a solid Blaine delegation and instructed for the Maine Senator. The Blaine majority in that state pursued precisely the same tactics that the Grant majority employed in the Illinois convention. They refused to allow the Grant men any representation in the delegation to Chicago, and this fact will no doubt be used by his friends in Illinois to quiet the dissatisfaction existing at the course pursued by the majority in the Springfield convention. The two delegates chosen to represent Dakota in the Chicago convention are for Blaine. The Alabama republican convention has been organized and is under the control of the Grant men, who will, no doubt, select a delegation solid in favor of their candidate.

The democratic conventions in New Jersey and Minnesota send uninstructed delegations to Cincinnati, though in the former state Senator Randolph is known to be the favorite of a majority of the delegates.

The republican conventions of this week have. we may add, very materially added to Gen. Grant's strength, and appearances now indicate that he will be nominated, in spite of all that has been or may be said or thought to the con-

By a party vote, the democrats voting in favor of the motion, the Senate yesterday laid aside the Kellogg case in order to take up Mr. Bayard's bill to regulate the appointment of U.S. deputy marshals for election purposes. This, very likely, disposes of the Kellogg case for this session of Congress, notwithstanding the fact that a number of democratic Senators declared they would not vote for the motion unless it was understood that its effect was but temporary. No doubt the Senators who promised to vote to take up the Kellogg case again. after the Bayard bill shall have been disposed of, did so in good faith and with honest inten tions, but if the adjournment fever continues to rage the rush and hurry will be apt to crowd the case over until next session.

The womens' rights advocates are certainly industrious and persistent enough to win the admiration of the men, even if they do not gain the right to vote. Wherever a convention, conference or any assemblage meets, be it political Eocial or religious, there some of the female suf fragists can be found knocking at the doors for admission with the view of urging their claims and principles. It begins to look as if the republican national convention will allow a delegation of women seats upon the floor. Democrats generally appear to believe in St. Paul's idea of woman-that she was created for the home circle-and they refuse to let her into their conventions.

The proposed new railway route between Washington and New York, to which reference was made in these columns a day or two ago, has come to a sudden end. The Westchester and Philadelphia railroad, which was to form the nucleus of the route between Philadelphia and Baltimore, has been bought outright by the old monopoly, the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Company. Col. McComb, the projector of the new route, and the Westchester road could not come to terms. It is his intention now, it is said, to build an entire new line between Baltimore and Philadelphia as soon as he can secure a charter in Pennsylvania. He has one partly passed in Maryland. It is to be hoped he may succeed. Two routes between New York and Washington, or rather between Philadelphia and Baltimore, are badly needed.

The indications now are that there will be only four starters in the race for the nomination at Chicago. Within the twelve days intervening it is not probable that any new candidate will be brought out. The line of distinction between the active candidates and the dark horses can now be drawn. Grant, Blaine, Sherman and Edmunds are the only names likely to be presented to the convention prior to the first ballet. While it is said that Senator Edmunds is averse to the use of his name, he cannot refuse to allow the delegates who have been instructed for him the privilege of recording their votes in his favor. Should neither of these candidates receive the nomination upon the first or second ballot, then the chances are that the dark horses will all be entered, and there will probably be a lively time of it.

Tarred paper is likely to go out of use as a roofing material. A letter from Milton states that it was largely responsible for the quick and wide-spread proportions of the fire in that town, blazing sheets of it being whirled through the heated air and lighting up scores of simultaneous fires. Similar results, it will be rememberd, happened at the great Chicago conilagra-11on of 1871.

Note is made of the fact that Senator Edmunds was in New York for three days recently without being interviewed. There is nothing noteworthy in this. It is easy enough to avoid an interview when an effort is made to that end. It is your statesman who wants to be interviewed that is the terror of newspaper men.

.... The number of missing children in the country is sadly suggested by the fact that in Philadelphia alone no less than one hundred and fifty persons,-mostly fathers and mothers,called at the central police station to see if they could identify as that of their own lost darling the photograph of an unknown boy who recently lost his life in a mysterious manner near Titusville.

By getting its charter repealed and becoming simply a "taxing district" the city of Memphis did not get rid of any of its responsibility or liability for its debts. The supreme court of the state of Tennessee has decided that actions commenced against the old corporation may be revived against the new, and that the "taxing district" and its property are liable for all the debts of Memphis.
